OVERDRAFT SERVICE FOR INDIVIDUAL ACCOUNTS*
An overdraft is the amount by which any item(s) posted to your Account on a Business Day exceeds your current balance. An overdraft occurs when you have non-available or insufficient funds in your Account to pay a transaction, but the bank decides to pay it. If you do not have Overdraft Protection, we may determine to pay a transaction applying the standard overdraft practices that are part of your account as follows:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> STANDARD OVERDRAFT SERVICE: This service is part of the account and does not require your consent. The service has a cost (please see the overdraft options section for details).
The Bank's standard overdraft practice is not to authorize or pay overdrafts for ATM and Debit Card transactions when you have insufficient or non-available funds unless you authorize it. The bank standard overdraft practice at our sole discretion, reserves its right to authorize and pay overdrafts for checks and other transactions made using your Account number, automatic bill payments and/or recurring Debit Card transactions. This means that the Bank does not guarantee that it will always authorize and pay any type of the transactions abovementioned. If the Bank does not authorize and pay an overdraft, your transaction will be declined. If the Bank pays the transaction is discretionary and depends on several factors, including the amount of the item, the type of transaction and the past activity in your Account. For example, the Bank typically does not authorize overdrafts if your account does not receive regular deposits, or your account has reflected overdrafts in the past. If the bank determines to pay the transaction, your Account will be subject to an overdraft fee per paid transaction and your balance will reflect a negative balance. Such balance will be charged to your Account or any other account you may have with the Bank, as authorized by law. You authorize us to use the money from any subsequent deposits to your Account (including but not limited to a direct deposit of Social Security or any other state or federal benefit payment) to pay any overdraft and resulting fees in that Account. For deposits you have authorized, you understand and agree that if you don't want your benefits applied in this way, you may change your direct deposit instructions at any time with the person or organization paying the benefits.

PROCESSING POLICIES

What is the Posting Order?

This section summarizes how we generally post some common transactions to your account.

The Bank currently group the different types of transactions into categories. We use several different categories for holds, credits, and debits. Most categories include more than one transaction type. After the end of the business day, our automated systems assign a category to each transaction received for that day. The Bank generally post all transactions within a category, using the posting order or orders that apply to that category before we post any transactions assigned to the next category.

The Bank start the posting of transactions considering the balance in your account from the previous business day, then will post credits and debits within categories in the following order:

1. All deposits and credits to your account will post based on our Funds Availability disclosure.
2. The following provisional holds and/or debits will post, within each category, in the order in which each is authorized/received (date/time). If the debit is received without the time of the transaction, it will be posted per category after transactions with information on the time of the transaction.
 - Any overdraft balance from the previous day if at the end of the previous day you incur in transactions against insufficient or non-available funds.
 - Provisional holds - Debit card authorizations, check deposit holds, etc.
 - Transactions within our branches through a Bank Representative. This includes debit card transactions and check cashing within the branch (if your Account provides checks)
 - Automated Teller Machine (ATMs) withdrawals
 - Debit Card purchases
 - Other debits (Telepago/Pay by Phone, transfers between accounts, wire transfers and debit notices)
 - Last, ACH debits, whether one time or recurrent, in the order received
3. Checks (in those accounts that offer checks) are processed in numerical order from lowest to highest check number. Checks presented without a number will post after the numbered checks and will post from highest to lowest dollar amount.
4. Most account related fees (such as monthly service fees, pending service fees, overdraft line of credit finance charge) are posted last in the order established by the Bank.

Overdraft Fee - We determine at the time we post the transaction into your account whether it creates an overdraft and whether an overdraft fee applies. If there are insufficient funds to pay a presented debit, we may pay it and overdraw your account. In such case, you may incur in an overdraft fee. The fee will be reflected in your account after the transaction is paid.
